ADHA meeting headed to Columbus

The official hotels are the Hyatt Regency Columbus and Hilton Columbus Downtown. The exhibit hall showcases the latest products and technologies and will offer discounted specials. The educational component focuses on enabling new and veteran practitioners alike to update skills by learning about the latest ground-breaking research through hands-on workshops and seminars. Attendee will have the opportunity to participate in a wide selection of cutting-edge, interactive continuing education courses.

Billed as the largest event dedicated to dental hygienists, the 95th Annual American Dental Hygienists’ Association Conference will be from June 20–23 in Columbus, Ohio. All events, including two days of exhibits, will be held at the Greater Columbus Convention Center.

The three-day event offers a broad and deep program featuring industry-leading keynotes and speakers, hands-on sessions and workshops and presentations exploring the most topical subjects shaping the future of dental hygiene.

Find registration and lodging details at www.adha.org/annual-conference.

105th annual NDA meeting, July 11-15

The 105th Annual Convention of the National Dental Association (NDA) will convene July 11-15, at the Rosen Centre Hotel in Orlando, Fla. The NDA, one of the oldest professional associations in America, is the premier dental organization for ethnic minorities representing more than 10,000 oral health professionals. The theme of the 2018 meeting is “Remember the Past, Embrace the Present, Enhance the Future.”

The mission of the NDA is to promote oral-health equity among people of color through advocacy, mentoring dental students and community outreach. The annual convention features continuing education, a product and resource center, and networking opportunities for oral health students and professionals alike. Oral-health professionals from across the country gather to learn the latest dental techniques and practice management solutions. Workshops will be offered on a broad range of important topics such as opioid addiction, inter-professional training and care, local anesthesia and surgical updates, practice management, the industry’s latest research and a variety of offerings to improve private and corporate practice.

The NDA is an inclusive organization and all oral-health professionals are welcome at NDA events. For more information and to register, visit www.ndaonline.org.

Glidewell symposium is Oct. 19-20

By Glidewell Dental Staff

Glidewell Dental, a technological innovator in restorative dentistry for more than 48 years, has announced its second Glidewell Dental Symposium. Scheduled for Oct. 19-20 at the Gaylord National Resort & Convention Center in National Harbor, Md., near Washington, D.C., this event will include more than a dozen prominent educators providing two days of intensive instruction, with a first day of fast-paced presentations and a second day of in-depth clinical and business training.

"Dentists have more options for treating patients today than ever before," said Dr. Neil Park, scientific chair of the Glidewell Symposium and vice president of clinical affairs at Glidewell Dental. "This period of rapid innovation in dental technology presents many opportunities for clinicians to expand their knowledge and practice offerings, and to explore more effective and efficient solutions for elevating the standard of care within our profession."

The symposium brings together notable experts from many different backgrounds and specialties, including esthetic dentistry, digital dentistry, dental implants, tissue regeneration, sleep-related dentistry, practice management and more. The event opens with a presentation on the state of dentistry from the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center.

Jim Glidewell, CDT, president and CEO of Glidewell Dental, followed by a lineup of presenters, including a keynote by Dr. Jack Hahn, legendary pioneer in dental implantology.

The symposium is for dentists, hygienists and chairside and front-office auxiliaries. Attendees enrolled for both days can earn up to 12 C.E. credits. Tuition for Day 1 is $195 and Day 2 is $95, with special early bird pricing of $125 and $65, respectively, when registering by July 31.

For a complete agenda and to register, you can visit glidewell symposium.com or call (866) 791-9539.

Tell us what you think!

Do you have general comments or criticism you would like to share? Is there a particular topic you would like to see articles about in Dental Tribune? Let us know by sending an email to feedback@dental-tribune.com. We look forward to hearing from you!